1. Claims 1-34 are presented for examination.
2. The drawings are objected to because many of applicant's figures lack suitable legends for their numbered boxes (i.e., the boxes lack names). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.
3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
4. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

5. It is unclear what is meant by applicant's claim 3. Certainly, it would not be logical to simultaneously map two circuits onto the same area thereby destroying the functionality of one or both. It also makes no sense to map a circuit onto a usable region that lacks sufficient capacity to perform the function. Applicant's claim 3 seems to merely be saying the circuit is mapped anywhere that it can logically be mapped which is all any working system can do.

6. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

7. Claims 1-34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Snyder (Patent No. 6,507,214).

8. Should applicants be unfamiliar with the "clearly anticipated" reference, they can read relevant information in the notes to form paragraph 7.15 in the MPEP. The basic premise behind a "clearly anticipated" rejection is when the applicants, as individuals of at least ordinary skill in the art, read the reference they will be readily able to recognize the relevance of the teachings of the art to their claims without explanation. However, though not necessary, this examiner usually points applicants to some particularly relevant passages in the reference and provides explanation of his interpretation of applicants' claim language when there might be some possible ambiguity.

9. The examiner would recommend that applicants read col. 3, line 12 through col. 7, line 42 and review the relevant figures, at a minimum, before responding.

10. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
11. Kaplinsky (Patent No. 6,212,591).
